Courier companies face one of the most challenging aspects of operating a profitable business—accurately tracking and managing thousands of drivers and deliveries each day. When the delivery is payroll, however, the stakes are even higher. Delayed or lost deliveries, frustrated customers, and lack of accountability are just a few of the headaches managers experience.

That's why ADP and AirClic® developed Payroll Delivery Tracking, the most user-friendly, cost-effective, all-in-one solution on the market today.

With its built-in, advanced GPS functionality, Payroll Delivery Tracking allows you to easily, accurately, and instantly track the movement of your deliveries, from initial pick-up to final destination. You see what's happening when it happens, giving you the information you need to improve driver accountability and deliver exceptional customer service.

The Courier Program

Two years ago, ADP began using the AirClic solution throughout the Pennsylvania and New Jersey region. Because of its tremendous success with drivers and customers, ADP is now implementing the program for all ADP employee and courier drivers across the country.

To ensure full delivery visibility nationwide, any courier partner that delivers ADP packages will be required to use the AirClic solution. Couriers also have the option of leveraging the tracking solution for all of their customer accounts. ADP and AirClic have designed a special program to make the deployment process as easy and flexible as possible, with three options to choose from:

1. Deploy for ADP deliveries only (required).
2. Deploy to drivers who deliver for ADP and other customers.
3. Deploy to all drivers, including those who don't deliver for ADP.

Pricing for all three options is included on the attached pricing sheet.

The ADP and AirClic Solution

Using an AirClic bar-code scanner attached to a mobile phone, the driver scans the package bar code, automatically capturing GPS time and location data and sending it to a secure Website. AirClic MP Tracker provides a real-time web-based view of your field operations, including delivery, driver, and GPS information. The optional AirClic MP Reporter transforms the data into useful, customized reports that include exceptions, reconciliations, and other critical performance measurements.

The AirClic Advantage

If you are looking to utilize AirClic for customers other than ADP, AirClic customizes the application to support your specific business needs and processes, and integrates easily with your existing courier tracking solutions. Superior user experience is another hallmark of AirClic technology, with a phone interface and application so intuitive that training takes less than 15 minutes.

- ▶ No other solution provides all-inclusive technology, from field to office
- ▶ No other solution is as cost-effective
- ▶ No other solution deploys as quickly
- ▶ No other solution gives you 60-100% ROI in the first year

Getting Started

Each ADP Region will work with its Courier Partners and AirClic to ensure a smooth transition to the new system. Sprint will also be involved from the outset to manage the details for phones, and voice and data plans.

Each Courier Partner will have its own deployment plan, in addition to an assigned AirClic Solution Manager and Deployment Manager. If the Courier Partner is not currently a Sprint customer, Sprint will also assign an Account Representative.
