FRESH PERFORM®

Real-Time Traceability for Superior Inventory Management and Recall Readiness

Fresh Perform® provides foodservice businesses the ability to dynamically track inventory - saving time, money and avoiding mistakes in the increasingly complex task of inventory management.

With Fresh Perform®, store managers can eliminate the error-prone and time-intensive process of manually tallying store inventory. Proven, reliable and easy-to-use, Fresh Perform® automates the in-store inventory process, allowing employees to verify inventory in a fraction of the time and without error. It doesn't stop there. As soon as an inventory update is recorded, the data is sent to your back or corporate office to enable real-time data-driven decision-making — incredibly improving the bottom line.

Fresh Perform® delivers superior product traceability. Outbreaks of food pathogens and food recalls are not only extremely costly — but they can cause tremendous long-term damage to a company's brand. With Fresh Perform®, franchise and store owners have visibility into every piece of inventory on their shelves. In the event of an outbreak or recall, managers can immediately determine which stores received product from the affected lots and pull it quickly. The result: tremendous savings, security and control.
